

What is Rudy?

Rudy is a study in Rare Diseases. Headed up by a research team at the University of Oxford. Rudy aims to transform clinical care for participants through patient driven research.

What will I have to do?

Because the study aims to collect information over a five year period, we are aiming to make your involvement as simple and flexible as possible.

You can decide what parts of the study you want to be a part of, and how you would like us to contact you.

You will be free to change your mind about your participation and your preferences at any time during the study.

If you want to get involved, please talk to your doctor, or go to: rudystudy.org.

You can consent on the website, please say in which clinic/hospital you saw this poster.
